

STRONGER THAN CANCER

Fighting Back by Climbing Mountains

On August 4th 2010 Scott Woods, a 43 year old lung cancer patient who has undergone over two years of intensive chemotherapy, reached the summit of Washington's Mount

Rainier (14,411 ft). Scott is a graduate of the Missoula based FIT TO FIGHT program, which uses exercise based therapy to inspire participants to become 'Stronger than Cancer'. Come meet Scott, hear his story and find out what it means to be Stronger Than Cancer!
